

Dr. Ray Hehant wanted to achieve the impossible; he wanted to control human growth. This goal was considered nigh impossible by his peers. Yet, if it could be achieved, it could benefit thousands of people by restoring limbs for victims of car accidents or soldiers crippled by IEDs. Furthermore, it could potentially regrow and repair damaged nerves and restore sensation to people paralyzed by spinal injuries. The potential benefits of such a breakthrough were nearly unlimited.

Dr. Hehant began this project after becoming financially independent following his discovery of a cure for lung cancer. The doctor, who normally went by just Ray, received a huge windfall of money and fame from that medical triumph. Ray used that new money to fund his research into this personal project.

Along with the altruistic benefits of his human growth project, Ray also sought the power to increase a person's size to an incredible degree. He was strongly motivated by his love for tall voluptuous women with large boobs and big butts.

Working toward that goal, Ray bought an old abandoned high school located outside a deserted rural coal mining town in western Pennsylvania. The coal mine had closed and the town had subsequently been abandoned decades ago; therefore, Ray was able to buy the entire school property, several buildings all together, for a fraction of its original cost. He then refurbished a few of the buildings to make it into a self-sufficient compound, his personal cook worked out of the old cafeteria, while his maid and chauffeur lived in some re-purposed classrooms, and everyone could exercise at the refurbished school gym.

All in all, it was a comfortable place to conduct his work. The only negative to living at the complex was that it was a half-hour drive from anywhere and therefore its isolation could be trying at times. However, working there allowed Ray to completely focus on his goal. And succeed he did, stumbling upon an amazing discovery reaching far beyond what he dreamed possible. Somehow, he had found a means that compensated for the "Square-Cube Law" by allowing growing things to support their vastly increased weight as they increased in stature, even more incredibly he found a way to add mass to a living thing at an amazing rate.

The secret behind his amazing discovery was a mysterious benefactor, one who gifted Ray with the means to succeed beyond his wildest dreams. Yet, this enigmatic supporter wished to remain anonymous and if Ray's suspicions were correct, then no one would believe Ray if he tried to tell them. Therefore, Ray kept the nature of his success a closely guarded secret.

Now, convinced that he had succeeded, Ray drank his growth formula. All of his numerous and exhaustive tests had demonstrated that the process worked and most importantly was safe. He had finally devised a means to control human growth. He would test a little of the formula on himself, before he told anyone else, as a final safety check. Even after all of the experiments to verify its complete lack of harmful side effects, he was unwilling to risk anyone else in case something went wrong.

As he consumed the potion in his laboratory, his wife, her best friend Betty Koyama and her best friend's long-term boyfriend Johnathan Hirsch were visiting in the adjacent living room. Sitting on the couch, his wife Jill and her best friend Betty discussed how crazy Ray was in thinking that he had finally succeeded. Both women thought that he was a little obsessed in his quest to control human growth but they consider it to just be a minor eccentricity of a very successful man.

Currently, Ray's wife and friends waited patiently for his announcement.

As they waited, Ray felt the effects of his concoction immediately, his muscles swelled up like balloons and his clothes became skin tight and uncomfortably constraining. His shirt tore apart, and he enjoyed this sensation so much that his dick became erect as it swelled larger than ever before.

Hearing a commotion, Jill left the other couple in the living room and went to investigate.

Upon seeing her now giant husband in the laboratory she exclaimed "Oh my God! You're huge Tiger!"

He laughed and said "I know!"

"You finally succeeded!" she grinned. "Whoa, you're hung like a horse now! Wait a minute, I want to see if your rubbers will still fit." she ran into their bedroom to grab one. Going to her husband's nightstand she reached into the top drawer and pulled a condom out.

Returning to her husband's laboratory, she could not get the prophylactic over the engorged purple head of her husband's cock. She looked up into her lover's eyes, "You got a big dick baby" then she began to stroke his cock "I love it!"

Her actions were soon rewarded with a blast of warm sticky cum over her blouse. She felt the heavy splatters of sperm splash against her chest, her face, and hair. Normally, she was reluctant to get so messed during sex, but today was a most unusual occasion. Accordingly, today she relished the sensation of her husband's giant cock raining cum on her for a full minute. As his dick pumped over and over again she told him to empty his enormous balls all over her and not to hold back.

Finally, he stopped ejaculating and, while he enjoyed the "afterglow," he did feel a little embarrassed that he had climaxed so quickly. "Sorry, it feels really good growing so big and I was already close to cumming before you touched me."

"That's okay, now it's my turn!" replied Jill. She grabbed the formula off the counter and took a drink. An instant later, her already large bosom exploded out of her bra and blouse while her panties and slacks also tore apart. The top of her head soon bumped against the ceiling, she tried to bend over and save the ceiling but the growth was so strong and fast that a moment later she burst through the ceiling into the second floor. Wooden beams cracked in half and large chunks of drywall fell to the floor.

"Fuck, I'm huge!" shrieked Jill.

"Whoa, you grew a lot bigger than I did!"

"Guess I'm a better grower than you are." said Jill with a laugh. "I know what you mean now about how good it feels! That was wonderful!"

"I told you!"

"You were already beautiful, but now you have the world's biggest tits and ass!"

“Men! You're obsessed with size” she said and rolled her eyes. “But I wouldn't mind if you wanted to explore my world-class pussy.”

“Yes, ma'am!” he replied and commenced to lick the lips and folds of her already wet pussy.

Then Betty ran into the room to see a very tall, and naked, Ray in front of an impossibly tall, and also nude, Jill. Ray was busy licking Jill's pussy.

"What was that noise? It sounded like the house was falling down!"

“What the hell; it works! It works! This is so awesome!” yelled Betty. “Wait a minute! You guys were having sex while we're here!?”

"Sorry, we didn't mean to make you uncomfortable. Just got a little excited with my success! You could give us a little privacy, or if you're feeling adventurous you could take a drink from the beaker on my desk and have some fun too." said Ray “It's pretty amazing!”

Betty did, and soon she swelled and her clothes ripped apart until she was eye-level with Ray "I like this!"

"Check out the size of your wife's clit, it's as big as a dick!"

"Would you like to touch my clit Betty?" invited Jill. Jill couldn't see everyone on the first floor through the hole that her growing body had made in the ceiling, but she could still hear everything that they said.

"I've... never done that, I'm straight" she replied. However, her tone suggested that she was seriously considering it.

"Let me know if you want to try something new" said Jill. “I think you're very pretty, and we could have a lot of fun together.”

Meanwhile, Ray grabbed Jill's clitoris and then gently squeezed and caressed it, running his hand up and down it. "Oh, that feels really good!" exclaimed Jill. "I think I'm going to cum!" She squirted out of her pussy onto both Ray and Betty. "That's my type of shower!" said Ray.

“It's all over me!” yelled Betty

“Sorry, I've never been a squirter before but growing made me so excited that Ray's touch made me orgasm! I didn't mean to get you! Oh, and now I'm getting bigger again! It's making me feel really good!"

Slowly Jill's head raised further upward until the top of her head was merely inches below the second floor ceiling. Jill tried to keep calm and not grow anymore.

It was at this point that a small sedan left the compound with its headlights off and moving at a slow but steady rate of speed; the driver hoped to capitalize on the excitement inside in order to make an unnoticed departure. The driver was correct and the sound of the automobile was completely undetected. Once the vehicle reached the main road the headlights flashed and and the car accelerated quickly heading south.

Back in the laboratory, Betty thought that perhaps sexual stimulation and arousal triggered further growth, and decided she wanted to be just as big as, if not bigger than, Jill. Casting aside modesty, which at this point was no existent anyway, and her normal prohibition against sex in public, Betty began to stroke her pussy and tits. She started to swell again, bursting through the first floor ceiling and joining Jill, who embraced her warmly. But Betty kept expanding, until her head loudly thumped against the second floor ceiling.

"Come up here and join us boys!" yelled Jill. Ray turned around and looked for the serum. He then handed the serum to Joe. Joe paused for a moment as if in deep thought, and then he took a swig of the serum. Soon, Joe was nearly as tall as Ray. This surprised Ray as Joe was a few inches taller than Ray at their normal everyday heights and Ray expected that Joe would be taller than him after he took the formula.

"Can you ladies get out of the building now? I think we need more room." asked Ray.

"It's good that you got lots of money, because I'm going to take the wall out!" said Betty.

She pushed against the side wall and pushed it out, pulling out wiring and shattering several support beams in the process. As the house began to tumble around them, the guys ran underneath the legs of their gigantic lovers and out into the courtyard.

Jill and Betty extracted themselves from the now unstable structure, which shimmed and shook wobbly as the enormous beauties walked out into the courtyard between the two-story building and the gymnasium.

The ladies brushed away the debris of the old building. They shook off dust and bits of wood from their hair and skin. Then Jill suggested that they all go to the pool.

Minutes later the group squeezed through the double doors and hopped into the Olympic-sized pool. The pool had a 10-foot deep end that enabled everyone to stand up, although the ladies found that the water only reached to the top of their thighs while the guys choose to stand in the 6-foot deep section, there the guys found that the top of the water reached to their waists.

"Okay, I know how guys are obsessed with the size of their dicks; so, I have a challenge for you. Whoever grows the biggest dick in 30 seconds gets to fuck first!" said Jill

"That's the weirdest challenge I've ever heard of" exclaimed Ray.

"True, but what the hell!" said Joe.

"Get ready..." said Jill.

Each guy put his hand on his cock.

"...get set, go!" said Jill and Betty began the count to 30.

Ray stroked his dick and immediately grew larger in steady spurts of growth. Soon, the ladies didn't seem so impossibly tall anymore.

"nine one-thousand, ten one-thousand, eleven one-thousand..." Betty counted steadily.

Ray thought he was doing well, but then he glanced at Joe and noticed that Joe was growing just as fast.

I must grow faster thought Ray. But how? He decided to muster all of his concentration into getting bigger, therefore he closed his eyes and tried to ignore everything else but getting larger. He tried not to listen to Betty's count, but instead fantasized about his wife as an enormous towering goddess, whose breasts cast a huge shadow that put entire cities under darkness. Although she was incredibly big he imagined her voice as a soft and pleasant whisper in his ears as she was begging for him to fuck her and telling him that she needed him badly.

Ray's idea worked, and his growth rate increased dramatically. So much that Betty forgot to count, and Jill exclaimed.

"That's it! Grow tiger grow! You're going to have the biggest fucking cock in the whole world!"

Joe was shocked as Ray rapidly swelled taller and bigger, soon surpassing even the ladies as he increased his size. A few seconds later, Joe conceded, "Alright, alright, you won!"

Betty said "Whoops, sorry I was kinda shocked at how fast you were growing, I forgot to keep counting."

Ray opened his eyes "Jeez!" he exclaimed. Ray's cock was eye level with both ladies, while Joe was about a head shorter than Betty, whom Joe was standing next to.

While Ray and Jill talked, Betty took Joe aside to speak in private.

"Are you okay baby? I think Jill expects us all to have sex together, like an orgy, but I won't fuck anyone if you're uncomfortable." said Betty.

Joe replied "I want you to."

"Are you sure?"

"Of course, I've always wanted to see you fuck someone else."

"Really!? You never mentioned that before!"

"You're so conservative. It wasn't something I could ever tell you." Ray said.

"Well, maybe I'm more adventurous than you thought, or I am now at least. Speaking of... do you want to just see me fuck a guy? Could I also fuck a girl?"

"I want you to be happy, and what guy doesn't want to see his girl with another girl? But, I really want to see you fuck a guy with a big dick, like bigger than mine."

“Ray fits that description. But there's nothing stopping you from growing larger.” said Betty.

“I think I prefer just watching the three of you grow.” replied Joe.

“Okay, I like looking down on you, being taller than you I mean.” said Betty.

“I like it too.” he replied with a smile. “Are you ready to fuck now?”

“Yes! I'm excited about it, in fact, I think I'm growing a little just thinking about it.” she said

“Well then, let's not keep them waiting, I can't wait to watch them fuck you!” With that the couple returned to the pool.

While at that same time, a long ways away, the car that had left the compound earlier pulled into an empty rest area and parked. The driver stepped out of the car and examined a small test tube in their hand.
